

HANNAH TO HONDURAS

February

On Valentine's Day, I had the privilege of helping out at the children's home. We had a blast! We brought them pizza, helped out with the cleaning and bedtime routine, were blessed by a devotional, and then ended everything out with a movie.

My friend Elimaída and I got to visit a couple of my students.

My student Dana was saved in second grade (just like me!). She told me that after she got saved, “I felt like the sun was more bright!” What a beautiful testimony!

Patrick, one of the kids on my bus route, was saved and baptized.

Iglesia Bautista Nueva Vida hosted an English conference for us English-speaking workers as a time of refreshment and encouragement. The speakers for this conference were Mike and Vicky Mutchler. One of the highlights of the conference was a message in which Pastor Mutchler challenged us to ask from someone “a double portion of thy spirit” as Elisha did to Elijah. He encouraged us to find that person and ask them to pray over us, and many did. Several in the ministry prayed over each other, as the pastors are doing in the top photo. Overall this conference was a wonderful time of spiritual growth and edification.

Hondurans celebrate Father's Day on March 19.

All the fathers in the church

One of the girls from the academy was saved and baptized. She at first was very resistant to the gospel, but after many discussions with other girls at the academy, she recognized her need of a Savior. Praise the Lord!

This is Hermana Nery, a wonderful woman from my bus route. We love stopping by to pay her visits.

Science projects!

These are several people who were saved at church.

At church they like to make announcements using skits. This skit is announcing the women's conference.

My friend and co-laborer Elimaida and I have started picking up students for midweek services. Every week we pick up about four students, pictured here.

Robyn Jackson, the speaker for the women's conference, spoke to our students before the conference started.

Prayer Requests

Thank you for your support through prayer! As we come to the end of our school year, here are some things you can specifically pray for.

- My own mental and spiritual focus
- That my students would finish strong
- The ministry as we pray for more laborers for the harvest
- Wisdom for different changes that are taking place
- God's hand of protection and strength, especially as we go on bus routes and evangelism
- Finances for my car and plane tickets

My car needs lots of prayer!

Praises

- Thank you for praying for my bus captain's wife as she underwent surgery. The surgery went well; please continue to pray for her recovery and quick return to normal activities.
- I thank the Lord for the many salvations in the ministry!
- My students are starting to show wisdom and are growing so well academically.
- A boy on my bus route for whom we have been praying for quite a while was saved and baptized.
- God has made it clear to me to move forward into full time missions! I am excited to see how He continues to lead and guide as I follow Him day by day.
